

A Public Forum on the Arts:
“The Future of the Fine Arts in Nova Scotia”

On Monday, April 30th 2007, CBC’s Olga Milosevich moderated a forum for stakeholders in the Fine Arts Industry: politicians, media, artists, civil servants and patrons. The topic was, “The Future of the Fine Arts in Nova Scotia”. The forum took place in the Lilian Piercey Concert Hall at the Maritime Conservatory of Performing Arts, and was co-hosted by the Maritime Conservatory of Performing Arts (MCPA) and King’s View Academy (KVA).

King’s View Academy was honoured to host such an event in its profound belief that the arts are integral not only for the well-being of society, but in the development of young minds.
